PRAYER BY A HEBREW RABBI. On the 1st instant the session of the House of Representatives was opened with the following prayer by the Rabbi M. J. Raphall, of New York. It was the first instance of the sort in our history. It is an eloquent and appropriate invocation:

proach Thy presence this day to thank Thee fice, in the city of Alexandria, Va., a valuable for Thy past mercies, and humbly to be seech TRACT of LAND and FISHERY, situate in the Thee to continue and extend the same to county and state aforesaid, on the Potomac river, Thy servants, the Representatives of these United States in Congress assembled.

Lord, great and manifold have been Thy bounties to this highly-favored land. Heartfelt and sincere are our thanks. While the world can only sustain themselves by yielding to the pressure of the spirit of the age, it has been Thy gracious will that in this sale are not complied with by the purchaser. Western hemisphere there should be established a Commonwealth after the model of that which Thou, Thyself, didst bestow on the tribes of Israel, in their best and purest days. The Constitution and the institutions of this Republic prove to the world that men, created in Thy image, and obedient to Thy behests, are not only capable, fully capable, of self-government, but that they know best dience to the law, religious liberty with warm zeal for religion, absolute general equality with sincere respect for individual rights. In acquiring and carrying out these has been signally manifest. It was Thy right hand that defended the founders of this missioner will, on Saturday the 11th day of Febru-Commonwealth, during the long and peril- ary, 1860, at 12 o'clock, M., in front of the Mayous struggle of right against might. It was er's Office, in the City of Alexandria, sell at public Thy wisdom that inspired them when they established this Congress, to be what Thy OF THE WASHINGTON AND ALEXANDRIA tabernacle, with the urim and thummimright and equity-were intended to have been for the tribes of Israel-the heart of the entire nation, where the wants, the feelings, and wishes of all might become known, to be respected by all, so that union might create strength, and concord keep pace with prosperity. Lord, the ordinary life-time of a man has barely elapsed since this Constitution came into force, and under its auspices our country, from being feeble and poor, has become wealthy and powerful, ready to take rank with the mightiest; and Thou, O Lord, wilt realize unto it Thy gracious promise unto Thy chosen people: Vehosircha adonai leto-beh—the Lord will distinguish thee for that which is good.

Supreme Ruler of the Universe, many days and many weeks have gone by since Thy servants, our Representatives, first met in this Congress, but not yet have they been able to organize their House. Thou who makest peace in Thy high Heavens, direct their minds this day, that with one who, without fear and without favor, is to preside over this assembly. To this intent, Father most gracious, do Thou endow them with Thy spirit; the spirit of wisdom and of understanding; the spirit of counsel and of amity; the spirit of knowledge and of fear and of equity; that they may speak and act and legislate for Thy glory and the happiness of our country; so that, from the North and from the South, from the East and from of the land joyfully repeat the words of Thy Psalmist: "How good and how pleasant it is when brethren dwell together in unity.' Lord God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, I, Thy servant, beseech Thee bless

Ya-air adonai panaraleka wy-chaneneka. Yissa adonai penar aleka veyasem Leka Shalom. May the Lord bless ye and preserve ye. May the Lord cause his countenance to shine upon ye and be gracious unto ye. May the Lord raise his countenance unto these Representatives; even as Thou hast directed Thy priests to bless Thy people.

Yebarekeka adonai Vegishmireka.

ye and grant ye peace. May this blessing of the one who liveth and who reigneth forever rest, upon your counsels and yourselves this day, and evermore. Amen.

THE TRUE GENTLEMAN .- The following sketch is called the portrait of a true gentleman, found in an old Manor House in Gloucestershire, written and framed, and hung over the mantle-piece of a tapestried sitting room:

The true gentleman is God's servant, the world's master, and his own man; virtue is his business, study his recreation, contentperance his cook, hospitality his housekeeper, Providence his steward, charity his treasurer, piety his mistress of the house, and discretion his porter, to let him in or Terms cash. out, as most fit. This is his whole family, made up of virtues, and he is the true master of the house. He is necessitated to take the world on his way to heaven: but he walks through it as fast as he can, and all his business by the way is to make himself and others happy. Take him in two words
